

Job Opening: Classroom Support Specialist

Location: Beeville, TX

Globaloria, an award-winning, K12 digital learning platform with courses in STEM, computing, game design and coding is currently seeking an energetic, entry-level Classroom Support Specialist (CSS). The ideal candidate will enjoy mastering the Globaloria platform and learning process and has a passion for using technology to bring innovation into every classroom, supporting and empowering teachers and inspiring students of all ages. Travel is required to support participating schools.

Qualifications:

- Excellent communication and people skills
- Excellent organizational and time management skills
- Energetic, intelligent, and proactive individual
- Love for learning, passionate about driving change in education and technology
- Self-starter with ability to work independently and on a team
- Knowledge and/or experience with JavaScript, HTML5, CSS, and ActionScript a plus
- Excited about joining a smart team, at a great fast-growing entrepreneurial EdTech company
- Flexible and willing to travel frequently to visit clients across the state
- Bachelor's or Associate's degree with experience in education and/or coding

Please send a resume and cover letter to jobs@globaloria.com with subject title "CSS Job Position in Beeville, TX."